

No Pens Wednesday

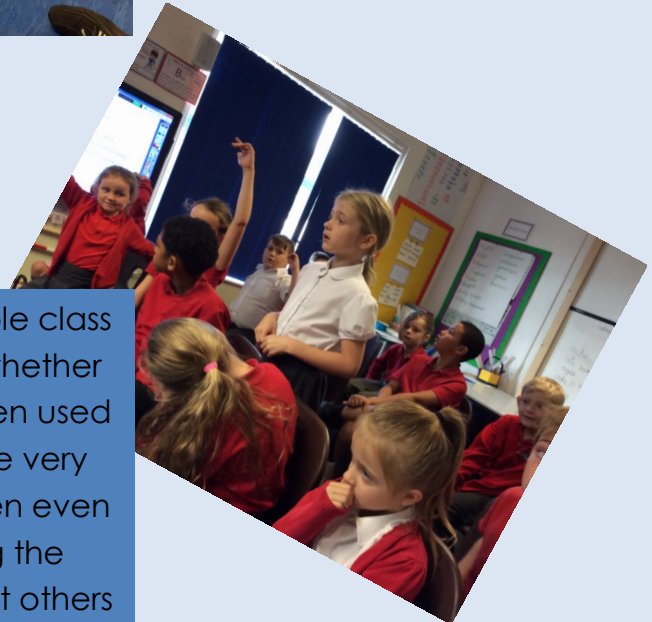

We weren't allowed to use pencils at all today. It made us work on our speaking and listening skills more. We all really enjoyed it!

We played Noughts and Crosses during Spellings. Mrs Thomas gave us a word to spell aloud. If we got it right, we put a nought or a cross in our chosen square.

In English, we had a whole class debate. We debated whether animals should have been used in WW1 or not. We were very persuasive. Some children even swapped sides during the debate because of what others had said!

We all thought animals shouldn't have been used in WW1.
